

INTERVIEW WITH TONY MALTESSON INDUSTRY

With almost 8 years as consultant with Centaur - Segula Tech, how do you maintain your motivation and positive attitude?

My first assignment at Centaur was within automotive equipment at Volvo Cars. This assignment was followed by yet another interesting one which has made me stay with the company since then.

Centaur provides interesting challenges within a wide spectra of markets and clients. It gives me an opportunity to continuously work in new and interesting areas such as the automotive-, process- and energy sector.

For me it is necessary to have a good and open dialogue, flexibility and worklife balance. I have three children that I want to spend as much time with as possible and I have now been given the opportunity to work close to my home on an assignment in a small city outside of Gothenburg called Borås which I appreciate very much.

Centaur also offers me the opportunity to increase my knowledge and skills by providing competence development activities and training on a regular basis. Also now since we have a new owner like Segula Tech I get the possibility to work in an international environment with highly knowledge coworkers, that I can utilize for the benefit of our customers.

I feel very proud of working for a company that can provide a wide range of services in the product development process, from project management, design, calculation, simulation, optimization to testing and verification. I feel very confident that I as an employee also in the future will get exciting challenges and great personal growth.
